This field is optional. You can choose any name you want, or you can post anonymously by leaving this field empty.

Name Tripcodes are a way to identify yourself between posts without having to register with the site. To use a tripcode, enter your name as `<name>#<key>`. You can choose anything you want as the key—it is private and will never be shown to other posters or stored on the server. For example:

Rarity#bestpony → Rarity!.4PK7yxdII

If you want a tripcode containing specific words, you can download a program designed to search for tripcodes, such as Tripcode Explorer.

Entering an e-mail is optional.

There are also code words you can enter here which perform certain actions when you submit your post.

- Email
- sage — lets you post without bumping a thread.
 - nonoko — uses the original post behavior to redirect to the board index.

These can be used at the same time as an e-mail address by typing `<email>#<action>`.

You can also use Skype names in place of an e-mail. The notation is the same as a link to a username on skype itself, which is `skype:<username>`

Idk, sure. I wasn't particularly connecting them in my mind. I also occupy a mental space where I don't like guro or s+m erotically, but I think that some horror loli stuff just gets me on an aesthetic and emotional level. Not flashy character designs begging for likes on xtwitter, rather stuff that crosses my wires in right and wrong ways.
